HEADNOTE

> "R. 4.1 RoP generally provides that the documents to be filed must be signed ("shall be signed", "sind zu unterzeichnen" and "doivent être signés") and that these must be lodged in electronic form. This does not require that the signature be in the form of a qualified or advanced electronic signature. Nor does such a requirement follow from the other provisions of the RoP, the UPCA or the case law of the Court of Appeal."

COURT
Court of Appeal Luxembourg

PROCEEDINGS
Procedural order

PATENT
EP 3 841 735

METHOD AND SYSTEM FOR IMPROVING THE PRINT QUALITY

KEYWORDS
- signature of appeal and grounds of appeal
- qualified or advanced electronic signature
- change of procedural language
- discretionary power

Rule 4 Lodging of documents

SUMMARY
The Court of Appeal Luxembourg issued a procedural order concerning a method and system for improving print quality. The patent at issue relates to technology in that field. According to the headnotes of the decision, Rule 4.1 of the Rules of Procedure generally requires that filed documents must be signed. These documents must also be lodged in electronic form. However, this requirement does not mandate that the signature be qualified or advanced. Furthermore, no such requirement derives from other Rules of Procedure provisions. Additionally, the UPCA does not impose this requirement. Established case law of the Court of Appeal also does not support such a requirement.