

HEADNOTE

“Rule 296.3 RoP should be understood to mean that after resumption of a suspended procedure, the running procedural time limits are resumed from the order for resumption, taking into account the time limits already elapsed before the suspension of the procedure.”

COURT
Local Division in Brussels

PATENT
EP 3 841 735

KEYWORDS

R. 296.3 RoP

PROCEEDINGS
Procedural order

METHOD AND SYSTEM FOR IMPROVING THE PRINT QUALITY

Decision to resume a suspended procedure

Procedural time limits

Rule 296 Duration and effects of a stay of proceedings

SUMMARY

The Local Division in Brussels issued a procedural order. The patent at issue relates to a method and system for improving print quality. According to the headnotes of the decision, when a suspended procedure resumes, the procedural time limits that were running before suspension start again from the date of the resumption order, with any time already spent before the suspension being counted toward the final deadline.