Rule 158 Security for costs of a party

SUMMARY
The Court of Appeal Luxembourg ruled on an application for provisional measures. The patent at issue relates to a method and system for detecting an offside situation. According to the headnotes of the decision, a party may rely on Rules 158 and 222.2 of the Rules of Procedure. These rules allow a party to request the Court of Appeal to order security for legal costs. This security covers costs and expenses incurred by the requesting party in appeal proceedings. Furthermore, it extends to expenses to be incurred during the appeal process.
